

Re the petition be banks to allow unsolicited phone calls to clients on the Indiana no-call list with whom they have done business in the last 18 months: I understand that I may be contacted concerning valid current business, but I vehemently object to receiving unsolicited calls concerning new offers, etc. which these businesses wish to propose. My privacy should not be invaded by these "ads". Mail, (which I may open or throw away, at my convenience and discretion), print or media ads should be sufficient to promote their offers. In fact, any business which violates the no-call request I have filed with the attorney General WILL NOT
